

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

PHAYBOON KHENSOKVANN,

No. C 09-1220 SI (pr)

Petitioner,

ORDER OF DISMISSAL WITH LEAVE TO AMEND

v.

ROBERT A. HOREL, warden,

Respondent.

Phayboon Khensokvann, a prisoner at Pelican Bay State Prison, filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254. His petition is now before the court for review pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §2243 and Rule 4 of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases.

According to the habeas petition, Khensokvann was convicted in Santa Clara County Superior Court of conspiracy to commit first degree burglary, active participation in a criminal street gang, receiving stolen property, and possession of burglary tools. On February 22, 2007, he was sentenced to nineteen years in state prison. Khensokvann appealed. His conviction was affirmed by the California Court of Appeal and his petition for review was denied by the California Supreme Court in 2008. He then filed this action.

This court may entertain a petition for writ of habeas corpus "in behalf of a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court only on the ground that he is in custody in violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States." 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a). A district court considering an application for a writ of habeas corpus shall "award the writ or issue an order directing the respondent to show cause why the writ should not be granted, unless it appears from the application that the applicant or person detained is not entitled thereto." 28

1 U.S.C. § 2243. Summary dismissal is appropriate only where the allegations in the petition are
2 vague or conclusory, palpably incredible, or patently frivolous or false. See Hendricks v.
3 Vasquez, 908 F.2d 490, 491 (9th Cir. 1990).

4 The petition is deficient in that it does not identify the particular federal constitutional
5 provision implicated in any of the four claims in the petition. This court can only consider
6 claims for violations of a habeas petitioner's rights under the constitution, laws or treaties of the 7 United States, see 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a), and cannot consider claims for violations of state law.
8 It is not sufficient to allege (as Khensokvann has for two claims) that there was 9 "unconstitutional" conduct; the particular constitutional provision must be identified.
10 Khensokvann must file an amended petition in which he identifies, in each claim, the particular
11 federal constitutional provision that was violated (e.g., the Fourteenth Amendment's Due Process
12 Clause or the Sixth Amendment's right to jury trial).

13 In preparing his amended petition, Khensokvann also should bear in mind that this court
14 cannot consider a claim unless state court remedies have first been exhausted for that claim. The 15 exhaustion requirement means that he must present each and every claim to the California
16 Supreme Court in a petition for review or in a habeas petition to give that court a fair opportunity
17 to rule on the merits of it before this court can consider the claim.

18 For the foregoing reasons, the petition is dismissed with leave to file an amended petition
19 no later than July 24, 2009. The amended petition should have this case caption and case
20 number on the first page and should be clearly marked "Amended Petition." Failure to file the 21 amended petition by the deadline will result in the dismissal of this action.
